Trainings

Journalist /writer

Tunisia Live(TL) / 2012- 2013

My job is to write articles in English language in an electronic post revolution newspaper called " Tunisia Live". In that period, it was the first English newspaper in Tunisia. I was trained by American and British editors and chief editors which have given me the opportunity to love writing and develop the skill to become a proficient writer.

- Proofread articles to make sure spelling, grammar, and content were correct and in line with brand style.
- Identified potential interviewees, prepared questions and conducted both live and recorded interviews.
- Followed leads from police, public and press conferences to generate ideas for stories and features.
